Form 1099-G reports the total taxable unemployment compensation you received for the calendar year. To request a duplicate copy of a Form 1099-G from either 2014 or a prior year, fill out only the “current information” in the shaded box below. If you do not know the “total unemployment compensation”, it can be skipped. If you want to request corrections to Form 1099-G for either the current or prior year, complete both the “current information” and “corrected information” boxes below.

If you have paid restitution for improperly paid unemployment benefits or for court-ordered deductions, those monies are still included in total compensation. These amounts cannot be removed from total compensation reported. Contact the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to get specific instructions on how these amounts affect your taxes and how to report them.
